

height of low tides (relative to average sea level)

